

Customer in Mexico places another order worth 675 000 USD (6,1 MSEK)

Brose Fahrzeugteile GmbH & Co. KG places another order worth a total of USD 675 000 (6,1 MSEK)

The order from Brose Fahrzeugteile is the second major order for carts to be used in their new plant, that will open during 2018 in Querétaro in central Mexico. The order will be delivered during the third quarter 2018 and consists of tigger carts, shelf carts and smaller dollies. The solutions have been evaluated by Brose during the first half of this year.

Ivan Alvarez, Purchaser at Brose Querétaro comments: "We see FlexQube as a long-term partner for our intralogistics solutions and are also happy to have them invited as one of our key innovative suppliers to our Innovation Day in Detroit in late July. With FlexQube and the modular concept, we see a strong business case for improved productivity and ergonomics in our plant with a future proof setup that allows us to plan for an extended lifetime of the material handling equipment."

"North America continues to be a strong driver for our overall growth and Brose is a company who has embraced the vision of our company and shares the same belief in how to best design and implement a flexible and efficient material delivery system," Anders Fogelberg, CEO of FlexQube was quoted saying. "We also look forward to share some of our more futuristic thoughts on intralogistics solutions with Brose during the Innovation Day in late July. It is important for us to partner with industry leaders that can challenge our ideas and give us their input on the next generation of products," he continued.
