ÅF signs framework agreement with BAE Systems Bofors AB.

ÅF has, via its Systems Division, signed a framework agreement with BAE Systems Bofors AB, which supplies the global market with products, services and solutions in areas ranging from military defence to civilian security.

The framework agreement covers a total of fourteen areas of technology in which BAE Systems Bofors AB requires support and assistance from technical engineering consultants and project managers.

The signing of this agreement confirms ÅF's position as a leading supplier of technical consulting services for the development of high-tech products.

ÅF has been supplying the needs of BAE Systems Bofors AB for many years, and this new agreement lays the foundations for a substantial expansion of collaboration between the two companies in the future.
