Cowboy Bounty released today with Ethereal Gaming

A new iGame released in selected markets and networks through Ethereal Gaming

"This is now our second game being introduced to players through Ethereal Gaming. We're excited to see how players respond to this one," says Jussi Tähtinen, CEO of Nitro Games.

"We are pleased to bring Cowboy Bounty to market as the second title under our partnership with Nitro Games. Their team has delivered a well-crafted game, and our focus has been on ensuring a smooth integration and rollout across the selected markets and networks we serve," says Iñaki Fernández, CTO of Ethereal Gaming.

Nitro Games and Ethereal Gaming announced a partnership earlier this year, under which Nitro Games acts as the developer and Ethereal Gaming as the distributor of a portfolio of selected iGames. The games are intended for release on selected markets and networks. The parties operate on a revenue-share basis, subject to the commercial performance of the games.
