

Change to Date of Interim Report

Ayima today announces that it will change the date of the release of the Q3 Interim report, currently scheduled for November 26, 2021. The new date for the release will be November 8, 2021.

The reason for the change is improved accounting and audit procedures have meant that the report will be completed significantly earlier than previously expected.

In light of these improved procedures, Ayima will also re-assess the scheduled dates for the release of subsequent reports and notify the market when the new dates have been decided.
