Balco Group appoints Johan Fälth as new Managing Director of Balco AB

Balco Group has appointed Johan Fälth as the new Managing Director of Balco AB, a company within the Group. He will assume his position on May 1, 2026.

Johan has been with Balco AB for 16 years and has held several senior positions within the company during this time. He has been a member of Group Management since its inception and will continue in this role. Most recently, he held a position with responsibility for Operations, Sales & Marketing, as well as Balco AB's subsidiaries – areas that represent a significant share of the overall business of the Balco companies.

With a broad and in-depth understanding of the business, the organisation and the market, Johan has consistently demonstrated a strong ability to drive development and deliver solid results. The appointment is a natural step to increase clarity, strengthen execution, and ensure a structure aligned with other companies within the Group.

"Johan is a highly regarded and clear leader with strong drive and deep commitment to the business. With his experience and commercial focus, he is very well suited to lead Balco AB into its next phase," says Camilla Ekdahl, CEO of Balco Group.

Camilla Ekdahl, who in addition to her role as Group CEO has also served as Managing Director of Balco AB, will now focus fully on Balco Group.
