PRESS RELEASE

Advania Sweden signs a major agreement with SKL Kommentus

Caperio, which is a part of Advania, has signed an important framework agreement with SKL Kommentus Inköpscentral, regarding "software and software cloud services 2016".

The framework agreement is valued to approximately MSEK 208. It applies for two years initially, with the possibility of another two years extension.

Business Area Manager at License Advania Sweden, Madeleine Wettergren, comments on the agreement as follows:

"The agreement is strategically important for us in our public-sector venture and enables us to provide strong licensing products, services and licensing advice, to Sweden's municipalities."

Advania Sweden's CEO, Tomas Wanselius, welcome this strategic possibility:

"This is a great opportunity for Advania to show our expertise and offer Sweden's municipalities qualitative products, at a favourable price, for the benefit of so many people. Caperio, owned by Advania, has several years of experience and expertise in both software licenses and cloud-based services. This frame agreement serves both parties very well and fits Advania like "the hand in the glove" - contributing to smart and cost-efficient solutions for the benefit of Swedish municipalities."
