Advania AB, a leading full-service IT provider in Northern Europe, has acquired Beveric, an IT company that provides IT consultation services and document management solutions for private and public sector.

As the demand for digitalization continues to rise among Nordic organizations, so does the need for a partner who can take on complex and innovative projects. Advania strengthens its presence in the region to add more value to customers operating on the Finnish market.

Advania has now over 80 professionals based in Finland, working on digitalization projects, and managing critical services for infrastructure organizations all over Europe.

The team will continue to focus on our existing customers and together with Advania excel our delivery. We are truly excited to work alongside Sami Grönberg and the rest of the Advania team, says Tapio Väisänen, CEO of Beveric.

The need for process automation, infrastructure and end-user digital workspace services is growing rapidly, parallel to the digitalization processes that are on top of the agenda for many organizations today.

- The demand for digitalization is high and fast-growing. With our new colleagues on board, we have a highly motivated team of world class professionals. Together we will deliver complex and innovative projects, introducing new technologies to the Finnish market that will add more value to our current and new customers, says Sami Grönberg, CEO of Advania Finland.

The acquisition is underpinned by Advania's growth strategy to add-on and integrate strong management teams with tailored market offerings in the Nordic countries.

- Advania has achieved a solid market share after entering the Finnish market in 2019. It has become an integrated part of Advania, and we are proud of the progress our team has made. With the acquisition of Beveric, we significantly enhance our professional services offering in Finland and become an even closer partner to existing and new customers, says Mikael Noaksson, CEO of Advania Group.
