

India's Strategic Security – Opportunities for Partnership

Date: Tuesday the 18th of December 2012, 09:00-10:00 am
(Breakfast will be served from 08:30 am)

Venue: Medelhavsmuseet, Fredsgatan 2, Stockholm

Thanks to its steady economic growth which reached 9% between 2006 and 2009, India has consistently improved its global standing. The economic downturn in Europe, evolving US-China relations, the scramble for scarce energy resources and concerns with global warming, its volatile neighbourhood - how do all these factors influence India's perceptions of its national strategic security? What opportunities for partnership would emerge as India pursues its strategic security? Can we expect a growing convergence of interests with Sweden?

Folk och Försvar (Society and Defence) has the pleasure to invite you to a breakfast seminar with the Ambassador of India Ms. Banashri Bose Harrison and the former Swedish Ambassador to India Mr. Lars-Olof Lindgren.

Programme

Moderator: Lena Bartholdson, Secretary General, Folk och Försvar

- | | |
|--------------|--|
| 08:30 | Breakfast will be served |
| 09:00 | The Security Policy of India
Ambassador of India Ms. Banashri Bose Harrison |
| 09:20 | A Swedish Perspective on India
Former Swedish Ambassador to India Mr. Lars-Olof Lindgren |
| 09:30 | Discussion
Ambassador of India Ms. Banashri Bose Harrison
Former Swedish Ambassador to India Mr. Lars-Olof Lindgren
(with questions from the audience) |
| 10:00 | End of seminar |

Welcome!

Please note that the seminar will be held in English.

ARRANGERAS AV:

