

Bio-Works Secures New US Customer in the Development of Next-Generation Medicine

Bio-Works Technologies AB today announces that a major US biotechnology company has selected Bio-Works as a partner in the development of a new medicine. The total order value amounts to SEK 2.8 million.

The customer is a global company developing innovative medicines and vaccines using advanced mRNA technology. The collaboration is currently in the development phase and includes the use of Bio-Works' products and expertise in the purification of biological medicines.

The customer's decision to proceed with Bio-Works means that the company's solutions will be used in the continued development of the drug candidate. The project has the potential to grow if drug development progresses according to plan.

"We are very pleased to have earned the trust of another leading US biotechnology company. The order, valued at SEK 2.8 million, is an important validation of Bio-Works' technical expertise and our ability to meet the stringent requirements associated with the development and manufacturing of advanced biological medicines," says Lone Carlbom, CEO of Bio-Works.

The collaboration strengthens Bio-Works' position in the US market and within the rapidly growing field of next-generation medicines. The customer's identity and further details of the project cannot be disclosed due to commercial confidentiality.
