

FundedByMe signs with FansofXshore for an opportunity to fund a 100% electric boat company

FansofXShore, a Swedish public company under formation has been granted the opportunity to invest in X Shore via the FundedByMe platform and network.

X Shore who offers 100% electric boats are already a success and are now looking to the future. As X Shore's global launch unfolds, the demand for 100% electric boats has grown tremendously. This success requires capital for increased production, development, and marketing to maintain a consistent level of growth and to reach the market share X Shore strives for. The boating world is undergoing a major transformation in mindset and technology and X Shore offers something that is new and unique, which combustion engines cannot provide. "I am an advocate for inclusion and co-operation," says Konrad Bergström, Founder and CEO of X Shore. "It is in this spirit, we have given FansofXShore this opportunity," continues Konrad Bergström. FansofXShore will nurse this opportunity and invite investors interested in joining this exciting journey through FundedByMe's platform.

"Together we will make economic history and change an entire industry towards a sustainable future providing the power of silence to all sea life," concludes Konrad Bergström, Founder and CEO of X Shore.

"FundedByMe has previously successfully crowdfunded electric vehicles such as Uniti and Bzzt amongst others. We believe that our investment members will love and embrace the possibility to participate in the revolutionary venture of changing and improving an entire business sector through FansofXshore," states Daniel Daboczy, CEO of FundedByMe.
