

Risk Intelligence A/S secures a major contract with high profile London based Law Firm

Risk Intelligence A/S ("Risk Intelligence" or "the Company") announces today that the Company has secured a significant contract for its Advisory Services business area with a major London based law firm.

The Company's security specialists will be providing expert witness and background analysis to assist the law firm whilst it represents a sovereign government. The contract will in addition to other already delivered and confirmed bespoke projects more than triple revenue within Advisory Services during first half of 2021 compared to 2020.

The contract does not change the Company's guidance for 2021.

Jim Pascoe, Chief Commercial Officer of Risk Intelligence, says:

"Due to the nature of the work, we cannot go into details in the public domain, but we are delighted to be working on such a large and prestigious project. We have seen a significant increase in our Advisory Services, rebounding to higher levels than prior to the pandemic. This increase is testament to the quality of our security analysts' expertise and the diligence they display when producing our analysis and advisory products. These are exactly the same analysts who produce the content on the Risk Intelligence System, allowing all of our clients to benefit from their knowledge and expertise."

The Risk Intelligence Advisory Services

Risk Intelligence provides independent, unbiased, intelligence-led advisory services to private and governmental clients. The Risk Intelligence Advisory Services consultants and analysts draw on significant experience from commercial shipping, flag state, security, and military organisations.

Risk Intelligence believes that only through thorough understanding of risk and threats combined with clear insight into the clients' needs the high-quality threat and risk assessments and consulting needed today can be produced. The Company strive to be a proactive partner for clients on matters of security through foresight, dynamic client relationships and tailored advice.
