

Quant to take over maintenance at Alcoa Mosjøen

Quant Norway AS has agreed to sign a maintenance contract with Alcoa, a world leader in aluminum production, to take over the maintenance execution in the Alcoa Mosjøen site in Norway. Quant estimates that the contract revenue totals NOK 80-100 million (EUR 7.5-9.3 million) per year for three years.

Alcoa Norway ANS Mosjøen and Quant Norway AS has agreed to enter into a three-year maintenance contract for the Alcoa Mosjøen site in Norway. Quant will be responsible for maintenance execution and supporting in projects during the contract period starting 1 December 2020. Quant intends to offer employment to the 136 permanent employees working with the current contractor connected to the site and assignment today. Quant estimates that the contract revenue totals NOK 80-100 million (EUR 7.5-9.3 million) per year.

Delwyn Forrest, Site Manager, and Tore Almaas, project manager for the tender, says "We are happy we have found, as we see it, the most suitable partner to manage the maintenance execution at Alcoa Mosjøen."

"This new partnership is an important step towards expanding our business in Norway. We are looking forward to building a strong relationship with Alcoa and to increase production efficiency in a proactive and sustainable way", says Pekka Venäläinen, SVP Region Manager Europe.

"We are looking forward a lot to start up the contract, the partnership has already started very good and transparent during the tender discussions", says Patrick Svensson, Business Development Manager Europe.
