

Quant signs contract with Exalmar in Peru

Quant Service Peru S.A.C. ("Quant Peru") has signed a six-year maintenance service contract with Pesquera Exalmar S.A.A. ("Exalmar"), a leading company in the fishing industry in Peru, for maintenance execution at multiple plants dedicated to the production of fishmeal and fish oil for indirect human consumption. With more than 35 years of experience, Exalmar participates in the extraction, capture, processing, and commercialization of high-quality marine products with high protein value. Quant estimates that the contract revenue totals EUR 12-14 million per year for five years, after the initial year of reviewing the current maintenance operations. In its quarterly report for the first quarter of 2021, Quant will increase its contract portfolio value with EUR 12 million.

Exalmar and Quant Peru signed a six-year maintenance service contract for the Chicama, Chimbote, Huacho, Callao and Tambo de Mora plants in Peru, and Exalmar's fishing fleet. Quant has established a legal presence in Peru in connection with the signing of a letter of intent for this contract and the country belongs to the Americas region. During the first year of the contract, starting 1 December 2020, Quant will review the current maintenance operations and prepare for full responsibility for maintenance execution. Starting in 2022, Quant will be fully responsible for maintenance execution.

"The last three years of growth for Exalmar has led to a demand for increased manufacturing capabilities. Aware of this challenge, the company decided to professionalize the management of its assets in order to optimize the availability of plant and fleet, reduce and control maintenance spending, and commit to a safety campaign to reach zero accidents. The value proposition offered by Quant includes these initiatives in a contract to execute maintenance and management of equipment of five plants producing fishmeal and fish oil for indirect human consumption, and twenty-four fishing boats", says Rolando Pinto, Business Development Manager Quant Peru.
