

Charter Fuels debuts new Madison market propane delivery truck

MADISON - Charter Fuels, a family-owned propane retailer based in Lancaster, Wisconsin, has a new propane delivery truck on the road serving the Madison market. As an Alliance AutoGas program provider, Charter Fuels helps Wisconsin fleets save money and reduce emissions by switching vehicles to clean propane autogas. The new delivery truck will service Alliance AutoGas fleets, as well as residential, commercial, and agricultural customers in the Madison area.

Family owned and operated for four generations, Charter Fuels has provided the communities it serves with reliable warmth, expert energy solutions and greater peace of mind for more than 88 years. The company has branches servicing 46 counties across Wisconsin, upper Michigan, northern Illinois, eastern Iowa and eastern Minnesota. Active in the local community, Charter Fuels donates profits from its pink propane delivery truck in conjunction with the American Breast Cancer Foundation's "Pink-Ribbon" campaign.
