INVISIO receives the largest order ever, worth SEK 130 million, from a United States Defense Department organization

INVISIO has received an order worth approximately SEK 130 million for hearing protection and related products under the Racal Acoustics brand. The customer is a branch of the US Department of Defense and the order is the largest in the history of INVISIO Group. The systems will be used in combat vehicles and most of the deliveries will take place during the current year.

The hearing protection systems under the Racal Acoustics brand are mainly used in combat vehicle crewman applications in critical and extremely noisy conditions, which puts high demands both on communication capability and hearing protection functionality.

“This is another impressive victory for INVISIO. There is no doubt that the Racal Acoustics solutions are market-leading in extremely noisy vehicle environments. This order and the two orders received earlier this year, totaling more than SEK 250 million, are clear examples of the increased activity level we are now seeing in the market for heavy military vehicles and in general”, says Lars Højgård Hansen, CEO of INVISIO.
