Kristofer Cook, CEO for Carbiotix, comments

"I am very pleased to welcome Jonas Danielsson and Christian Månsson to the Carbiotix Board of Directors. Jonas will now serve as our Chairman and has over 20 years of experience in the food & beverage industry having served as a board member, CEO, CFO, and Head of Marketing. Having worked most recently as CEO of Trensums, Jonas has extensive experience with setting up new process lines, factories, acquisitions and successfully managing growth companies. Christian has over 10 years of experience working as a process engineer for AFRY, Bioglan, and Einar Willumsen, involved in process design and scale-up within both the food & beverage and pharmaceutical industries. I look forward to working with both Jonas and Christian as we bring our first production site online at FoodHills and expand our production capacity going forward. Their knowledge and experience will be invaluable to our process engineering team, allowing us to both reduce the risks and accelerate scale-up activities.

I am also very pleased to welcome Erik Deaner as our new Head of Sales, who will start at the beginning of May. Erik has an extensive and solid track record working in sales and managing business development teams, having worked most recently at ApoEx and Sustend. I look forward to closely working with Erik as we roll out our LinkGut API service globally and ramp up AXOS sales activities in conjunction with the completion of our first production site at FoodHills. He will play a key role in professionalizing our sales activities, both expanding sales with existing partners and signing on new partners and modulator customers. As Head of Sales, Erik will join our management team and work closely with both me and other key functions, serving as another bridge between partners, customers, and our technology development teams."
