Electrolux Professional Group partners with Mimby -a cleantech company

Electrolux Professional partners with Mimby, a Swedish startup cleantech company focused on water saving and microplastic filtration technology.

“By partnering with Mimby, we will strengthen our commitment to sustainable innovation by supporting the development of microplastics filtration and water saving technology. This will further strengthen our position as the sustainability leader in our industry,” says Paolo Schira, President Business Area Laundry, Electrolux Professional.

Mimby has developed a technical plug-in solution called Mimbox that lowers water consumption, filters microplastic down to around 50 micron, and saves energy from retaining the water. Electrolux Professional and Mimby will co-develop new solutions within the field of microplastic filtration.

The continued need to be more efficient in water and energy usage, in combination with the preparation for any future regulatory requirements are key drivers for partnering with Mimby.

Electrolux Professional will also take a minority stake in Mimby. Read more about Mimby on www.mimby.se
