Christoffer Bööj becomes new Business Developer at Catena

Christoffer Bööj has been appointed as Catena's new Business Developer – a central role with considerable focus on new transactions and project development, directly supporting the company's strategy of continued growth.

Christoffer joins Catena from a position as Branch Manager at Goldbeck Scandinavia where he was responsible for building up the company in the Scandinavian market. Prior to that, he held several roles at Logistics Contractor, within areas including business and property development. In his new role as Business Developer at Catena, Christoffer will primarily be tasked with initiating and implementing property deals and transactions and work with project development – predominantly in the Malmö, Helsingborg, Gothenburg and Jönköping regions.

"We are pleased to welcome Christoffer on board. With his solid background and valuable capacity for building long-term relationships with customers and partners, he will further improve our conditions for continued development in line with our substantial ambitions," says Catena's CEO Benny Thögersen.

Christoffer will assume the position on 1 September.
