NCC to build forensic medicine premises for the National Institute for Health and Welfare in Helsinki

NCC has been selected by state owned real estate company Senate Properties to construct the new building for the National Institute for Health and Welfare (THL) in, Helsinki, Finland. The order value is over SEK 300 million and it is one of the key partnering projects of Senate Properties.

The new building will house THL's forensic autopsy facility, forensic laboratory and forensic medicine center. In addition, the building will include shared premises that will serve the entire campus area.

“Forensic medicine operations set a high standard, especially with respect to requirements for hygiene and safety systems. The partnering model also allows experts of the service provider to participate in the planning and share knowledge,” says Mika Soini, Head of NCC Building Finland.

The Tilkanmäki campus area consists of several buildings, the oldest of which dates back to the 1960s. The new building to be constructed by NCC will replace an old building originally used as an animal shelter. The demolition work commenced at the end on January 2019. Work on the new building is expected to be completed at the end of October 2020.

The total order value is over SEK 300 million and will be registered in the second quarter of 2019 in the NCC Building Nordics business area.
