NCC to construct new hospital building in Oulu, Finland

NCC has been commissioned by the Northern Ostrobothnia Hospital District to construct Building C at the Oulu University Hospital in Finland. The order value is just over SEK 1.7 billion.

NCC has previously built Building A and Building F and has now signed a construction contract for Building C, which is included in the second phase of the hospital's modernization program.

The building will gather clinics for specialized healthcare and adult day care services, pathology laboratories, teaching and training facilities, as well as a health and social care center.

The project is being carried out in a partnering/alliance model and has been preceded by a development phase during which the parties conducted detailed construction planning. NCC is in charge of the design, construction and technical building services included in the project.

"The development phase was quite protracted as we evaluated different options and methods of implementation, but we kept within our strict financial framework. A big thank you to NCC, as well as to the project planners and our reference groups. The trust that has been built up over many years of collaboration between top professionals is a strong foundation to stand on. The processes we have jointly developed to coordinate the project have helped us succeed," says Kari-Pekka Tampio, Program Manager, Northern Ostrobothnia Hospital District.

"With this project, we are continuing the strong partnership we have enjoyed for many years with the Northern Ostrobothnia Hospital District. As part of a professional alliance, we are now constructing a modern, first-rate hospital, which places major demands both on coordination and on construction expertise for us as a contractor," says Catarina Molén-Runnäs, Head of NCC Building Nordics.

Construction will commence in 2025 and is scheduled for completion by mid-2029.

The order value of about SEK 1.7 billion will be registered during the fourth quarter of 2025 in the NCC Building Nordics business area.
