NCC one of Europe's best employers

NCC has once again been named one of most highly recommended employers in Europe in a survey conducted by the Financial Times and Statista. NCC climbed more than 100 places in this year's ranking, placing third among Swedish companies and 41st out of a total of 1,000 European companies.

"I am delighted to see NCC move up the list of Europe's most highly reputed employers and that we placed among the top three in Sweden. The ranking has particular significance since it is based on the recommendations of our employees, whose expertise and commitment form the foundation of our success," says Marie Reifeldt, Head of Human Resources, NCC.

Europe's Best Employers is a ranking produced by the Financial Times and Statista and based on an independent online survey of employees working for companies with at least 500 employees in Europe. More than six million people responded to the survey, evaluating their current employers and other employers in the same industry.

"At NCC, we offer excellent opportunities for continuous professional development, as well as the privilege of working with – and learning from – some of the most talented colleagues in our industry. NCC's greatest strengths as an employer are its focus on individual and joint development and its commitment to sharing best practices," says Marie Reifeldt.

NCC is ranked third among Swedish companies and 41st overall, and as such has been recognized among "Europe's Best Employers 2026."
