

Diös announces changes to Executive Management group

Kristina Grahn Persson, Director of sustainable business, leaves, at her own request, Diös' Executive Management group and terminates her employment with the company. Kristina has worked within Diös since 2012. The change will take place during the summer of 2023.

Diös is one of Sweden's largest property owners with a focus on ten growth cities in northern Sweden. With a unique position in a market driven, among other things, by the green transition in modern industry, the company develops its business through property management, project & business development and transactions. Diös' offer is about commercial premises, primarily offices, which are complemented by premises for urban services and housing.

In recent years, Kristina Grahn Persson has been responsible for HR, digitization and sustainability at Diös. At the end of the summer, she takes up her new role as Head of People and Culture at the property and fund management company Areim.

– I want to congratulate Areim on a good recruitment through Kristina. She has been an important part of Diös' success, not least in HR, where she has been behind that we have successfully recruited highly competent employees to our teams in the company and built our own education arena, Diös Academy. Right now we are looking at how to further organize ourselves around the issues that have been on Kristina's table, and of course I see how we can develop these. Kristina is staying until further notice and I wish her the best of luck in her new role eventually, says Knut Rost, CEO, Diös.
