

Press release from Bisnode

BISNODE'S PARTNER DUN & BRADSTREET NAMED AS THE WORLD'S BEST SUPPLY CHAIN FINANCING AND MANAGEMENT SERVICES PROVIDER

Bisnode's global partner Dun & Bradstreet (NYSE: DNB) was recently recognized for providing the "Best Analytics for Credit Scoring and Supplier Risk Assessment" by Global Finance Magazine.

Global Finance Magazine named Dun & Bradstreet a 2016 global winner for providing analytics-based insight and foresight including credit scoring, country risk assessments, supplier risk assessments and business economics information. In the supply risk space, these reflect solutions that help companies better manage, understand, and take proactive actions against hidden risks that could negatively impact their network of strategic suppliers.

Bisnode provides high quality information from local markets to the global Dun & Bradstreet network and has served customers with Dun & Bradstreet's products and international data since 2002. The partnership has been a great opportunity to expand Bisnode's offerings with global solutions and platforms to better serve companies that are exporters or have international supply chains. Bisnode offers a broad range of solutions in financial, sales & marketing, supply management and compliance.

"Dun and Bradstreet is the go-to source of information for companies looking to assess and understand events (economic, geopolitical) going on in their market globally that could impact their supply chain," said Joseph Giarraputo, publisher of Global Finance. "The breadth and depth of information they provide enables companies and business decision-makers to quickly get to grips with global events as they unfold and how they could potentially impact their business and network of suppliers."
