LOSTnFOUND, part of AddSecure, wins two gold awards at the German Telematics Award 2026

Recognised for its innovation and customer-focused technology, the company took home Gold in both the Asset Management and Field Service categories.

LOSTnFOUND, part of AddSecure, has been honoured with two prestigious Gold Awards at the German Telematics Award 2026 ceremony held in Berlin. The company secured first place in the categories “Asset Management” for its FleetTech solution and “Field Service” for its RoadHero damage management tool.

In total, LOSTnFOUND’s solutions reached the podium four times across different categories, a strong testament to the performance and versatility of its innovative telematics technologies.

“We are absolutely delighted to have received two Gold Awards in the Asset Management and Field Service categories at this year’s German Telematics Award,” said Daniel Thommen, Managing Director of LOSTnFOUND, part of AddSecure.

“These achievements highlight the versatility and practicality of our solutions, which are part of FleetVision. A heartfelt thank you goes to DEKRA and ETM-Verlag (eurotransport.de) for this recognition – and of course to our customers, whose trust and daily commitment are key to our success.”

The award ceremony took place on 29 October during the DEKRA Future Congress for Commercial Vehicles in Berlin, Germany.
