

Truecaller partners with Chilimobil to strengthen protection against phone fraud in Sweden

Stockholm, May 19 - Truecaller is partnering with Swedish mobile operator Chilimobil to give Chilimobil customers stronger protection against phone fraud and unwanted calls. Through the partnership, Chilimobil customers receive a one-year subscription to Truecaller Premium, free of charge during the launch period. The offer is available to both new and existing customers.

Phone fraud and unwanted calls are a growing problem in Sweden, particularly on mobile phones. Many consumers struggle to tell who is actually calling, while fraud attempts and aggressive telemarketing continue to rise. Telecom is one of the industries most exposed to unwanted consumer contact, with telemarketing, spoofed numbers, and fraud attempts often running through the mobile network. At the same time, operators can only do so much at the network level.

"Our partnership with Chilimobil is a perfect match because we both want to put consumers in control of their own safety," says Xavier Trouvé, VP Premium Product at Truecaller. "By integrating Truecaller Premium, we help Chilimobil customers filter out the noise and protect themselves from increasingly sophisticated mobile fraud, giving more people in Sweden access to a cleaner, safer, and more reliable communication experience."

For Truecaller, the partnership is part of a wider strategy to bring fraud protection directly to consumers. Embedding Truecaller Premium into the operator offer puts protection in the hands of users through a channel they already trust, and strengthens Truecaller's position in its home market at a time when mobile fraud is growing.

"Truecaller is a Swedish company that has succeeded globally by solving a very concrete everyday problem. By making their Premium service available to our customers, we give them a simple way to avoid answering calls that are disruptive or risky. For us, it's about being a fair operator. That means good prices, and it also means taking responsibility for the problems our customers actually face," says Fredrik Brunzell, co-founder of Chilimobil.
