

Dignitana Signs Agreement with ION Solutions

Dignitana AB today announces an agreement with ION Solutions (ION), a part of AmerisourceBergen, to easily provide DigniCap to oncology practices that are members of the ION Group Purchasing Organization (GPO). The DigniCap® Scalp Cooling System minimizes hair loss from chemotherapy in patients with solid tumors.

ION Solutions is the largest physician service organization and group purchasing organization specializing in the support of community oncology practices. Approximately half of the private practice oncologists in the U.S. from over 1,100 medical practices utilize GPO services from ION. The company is dedicated to offering providers the tools necessary to maintain the highest quality patient care available.

“ION strives to improve patients' lives by delivering innovative products and services that drive quality and efficiency in medical care“ said Nicole Chambers, Corporate Account Director at ION Solutions. “DigniCap is a natural extension to the services that we provide to members. We know this is something patients and doctors want, and the ION GPO offers a streamlined contracting process with the added benefit of negotiated volume pricing.”

“Several of our current customers are members of ION, and the strength of those relationships has paved the way for this significant agreement,” said William Cronin, Chief Executive Officer of Dignitana AB. “ION shares our commitment to enhancing quality of life for cancer patients while providing operational efficiencies to medical practices. This agreement with ION is an important part of Dignitana’s ongoing effort to make scalp cooling a standard of care in the United States.”

Dignitana is the world leader in scalp cooling innovation providing the DigniCap Scalp Cooling System in 30 states in the U.S. and 40 countries around the globe.
