For stargazers and high achievers: Club Campus in night sky and starlight

The new Club Campus models from NOMOS Glashütte are made to mark personal milestones—and other moments when the stars align GLASHÜTTE, FEBRUARY 20, 2025. In a few days' time, a complete planetary parade will be visible in the night sky worldwide. Saturn, Neptune, Venus, Uranus, Jupiter, Mars, and Mercury will be visible together for a short time. An exciting moment for stargazers—and a wonderful example of the stars aligning at the perfect moment. The new Club Campus models from NOMOS Glashütte come in the aptly named colors of night sky and starlight.

But there are many ways to reach for the stars. Personal milestones such as a professional qualification, marriage, or welcoming a new addition to the family, are also moments worth celebrating. The sporty Club Campus models with their bold dial colors are made for such occasions. Their stainless steel backs have plenty of space for a custom engraving, making them ideal for commemorating important life events.

This robust watch features a mix of Roman and Arabic numerals on the dial. Inside, the hand-wound Alpha caliber from NOMOS Glashütte makes Club Campus an excellent first step into the world of fine mechanical watches. It is available in two sizes, with diameters of 36 and 38.5 millimeters respectively, and in colors that are invigorating and refreshing: night sky and starlight.
