Smart casual in a sports watch: Ahoi neomatik 38 date is now also available in shimmering white.

The new favorite: NOMOS Ahoi in white

The new automatic watch from NOMOS Glashütte is a classic essential for an active lifestyle—on the court, on deck, and elsewhere in life.

GLASHÜTTE, JUNE 19, 2025. As indispensable as a white outfit for Wimbledon, sea foam on the waves, or a bright white sail on the horizon, setting sail for new shores. Ahoi neomatik 38 date by NOMOS Glashütte is a watch for those with a sporting spirit, an appreciation of good form, and who know their personal style.

The concept: An automatic sports watch with a compact size that is highly functional, sits elegantly on the wrist, and has a clear, modern design. A key piece for mechanical watch enthusiasts with an active lifestyle, and one that adds a fresh touch to any outfit. Suitable for sport, leisure, and the office.

The watch: Ahoi neomatik 38 date has a robust stainless steel case with a screw-down crown and crown guard. It is water resistant to 20 atm and features a white silver-plated dial with Superluminova on the hands and hour markers. At work within: DUW 6101, the patented date caliber from NOMOS Glashütte with a proprietary escapement, the NOMOS swing system.

The collection: Ahoi is the sporty version of the iconic Tangente model from NOMOS Glashütte. This automatic all-rounder has the same characteristic typography on the dial and the same unmistakably straight case with angled lugs; only the case is significantly more robust. To ensure a 38.5-millimeter diameter and accommodate a date function, the DUW 6101 caliber inside was reduced in size specifically. This watch is already available in Atlantic, Sky and Sand—and now a new version in white is joining the collection.

The result: A new mechanical watch that feels as if it is already familiar and goes with everything, just like your favorite white shirt. A brand-new classic.
