Press release from Scandinavian Astor Group AB (publ)
Stockholm, February 21, 2025

First order through Astor Group Deutschland

Scandinavian Astor Group AB (publ) ('Astor Group' or 'the Company') has today received a first small order through its newly established German subsidiary, Astor Group Deutschland GmbH. The order, which relates to service parts for a system previously delivered by the Group's subsidiary Scandiflash, is of minor financial significance but marks a milestone for the Company's establishment in Germany.

"This first order through our German subsidiary is an important signal and proof that our establishment in Germany is paying off. We look forward to further developing our business in the German market and strengthening our position in the defence and security sector", comments Astor Group CEO Mattias Hjorth.

The establishment of Astor Group Deutschland GmbH has already shown tangible results and strengthens the Group's ability to improve customer relations, offer more efficient service and cooperate more closely with German defence authorities and industrial partners. The first order now received is for service parts for a Scandiflash system previously delivered to a German operator. The order is of minor financial significance but shows the effect of Astor Group's establishment in Germany. Delivery is scheduled for spring 2025. Due to the nature of the industry and the circumstances of the customer and national security interests, no further information about this order or the customer will be disclosed.
