Stockholm August 14, 2025

Astor Group's associated company Nordic Shield Group receives an order of SEK 31 million

Scandinavian Astor Group's ("Astor Group" or the "Company") associated company in the field of security-classified structures, Nordic Shield Group AB ("NSG"), has received an order of SEK 31 million through its wholly owned subsidiary Cesium AB ("Cesium"). The order concerns security structures for a defense actor in the Western world.

Cesium, a wholly owned subsidiary of Nordic Shield Group, an associated company within the Astor Protect business area, has received an order of SEK 31 million for security structures. The customer is a Western defense actor. The project will be delivered in the first quarter of 2026.

"This order is further confirmation of NSG's attractive offering in security-rated structures and the trust that has been built up in the market for their solutions. As NSG is an associated company of the Astor Group, the deal also contributes positively to the Group's results", says Mattias Hjorth, CEO of Astor Group.

Due to the nature of the industry and circumstances concerning customers and national security interests, no further information about this order or customer will be disclosed.

About Nordic Shield Group

Nordic Shield Group, including the operations of Cesium, NEZ, and NSG's proprietary solutions, offers specially high-level protective and secure structures, such as shelters, data centres, and containers. The systems are developed to meet modern threats such as intrusion, sabotage, and electromagnetic pulse (EMP), with a focus on mobility and rapid deployment. In 2025, NSG plans to launch several new solutions for the protection and security market. NSG is an associated company of Scandinavian Astor Group, which owns 30 per cent of the business.
