Volvo XC60 named Best Luxury Compact Crossover by Good Housekeeping

(MAHWAH, N.J.) March 23, 2022: The 2022 Volvo XC60 has been named Best Luxury Compact Crossover by Good Housekeeping for their 2022 Best New Family Car Awards.

Every year, experts at the Good Housekeeping Institute partner with the automotive pros at Car and Driver to unveil the best cars to buy for families, which are tested by engineers, analysts, and real parents.

Good Housekeeping Institute experts are aiming to simplify the decision-making process for families investing in a new car and published this year's list of winners based on trusted and tested recommendations following an assessment of hundreds of vehicles. This year, to make shopping and comparison easier, Good Housekeeping enhanced their roundup by adding key specs like mileage, maximum occupants, trim and length.

The 2022 XC60 was recognized for its impressive exterior design, refined craftsmanship and standout Google-based user interface. The dynamic midsize SUV was also commended for its safety technology, agile handling and elegant interior, allowing for a quiet and comfortable experience for all passengers. The exterior of the 2022 XC60 has been restyled to showcase new design elements, along with having Google built-in, making it smarter than ever. With Google Assistant, drivers can get directions, enjoy in-car entertainment, and fine-tune the cabin environment all without taking their hands off the wheel. Simply say, "Hey Google" to get started.

The 2022 XC60 Recharge has a starting MSRP of $42,650. Consumers can learn more about the XC60 and other award-winning Volvo cars by visiting www.volvocars.com
