Volvo V90 Cross Country named Digital Trends Best Luxury Family Car for 2019

ROCKLEIGH, N.J. (September 4, 2019) The Volvo V90 Cross Country has been named Best Luxury Family Car for 2019 by DigitalTrends.com

The best family cars you can buy combine practicality, tech, driving pleasure, according to the tech site. Specifically, “The Volvo V90 Cross Country can do everything with style,” said Ronan Glon, auto editor. It has space and all-wheel-drive capability, but without the handling and fuel economy deficits of a bulkier SUV body.”

“Volvo has a long heritage with versatility,” said Anders Gustafsson, president and CEO of Volvo Car USA. “We are very proud to have helped create the crossover segment in the nineties with the original V70 XC and that continues with the V90 Cross Country today.”

The current V90 Cross Country is built for adventure and packed with versatility, rugged styling and all-road capability to provide owners the freedom to move. Sensus touch-screen technology, seating for five, added ground clearance, a low roof that’s easy to load and unload and all the safety of a Volvo make the V90 Cross Country the vehicle of choice for active families.

Prices start at $54,550. Consumers can visit www.volvocars.com/us to find one near them and schedule a test drive.
