Nationwide Hygiene Supplies chooses bpi.recycled products

bpi.recycled products, which ranks as Europe's largest manufacturer of refuse and recycling sacks, has been named as a preferred supplier to Nationwide Hygiene Supplies.

The decision by the leading supplier of cleaning, hygiene, safety and catering products to appoint bpi.recycled products is believed to be a direct result of its comprehensive product range, its strong environmental credentials and a long-standing trading relationship.

In addition, bpi.recycled products demonstrated its ability to tailor its range to comply with the needs of individual customers. For Nationwide, the manufacturer developed a range of bespoke printed cartons produced specifically to meet their particular commercial requirements.

It is understood that Nationwide was also impressed by the position that bpi.recycled products holds as a leading UK-based manufacturer. As well as ensuring a continuity of supply, this also offers additional green benefits in the form of reduced product miles and a lower carbon footprint.

Under the new agreement, bpi.recycled products will be supplying the business with a complete range of waste management solutions including its Green Sack® ultra-low carbon footprint, 100% recycled refuse sacks. As well as janitorial products, the manufacturer will also be supplying Nationwide with a number of specialist healthcare solutions.

Speaking of the decision, Sarah Morrell, Purchasing Manager at Nationwide Hygiene Supplies said: "As part of the tender process, we were looking to appoint a preferred supplier that is able to deliver standards of excellence across the board. bpi.recycled products answered that brief admirably. We're confident that their experience, expert knowledge and considerable infrastructure will enable them to deliver on our expectations."

Kim Jones, Sales Director at bpi.recycled products, added: "As a business, bpi.recycled products is committed to offering cost effective, high quality products that offer the highest levels of performance, every time. The recent partnership with Nationwide is a testament to this commitment and we're delighted to have the opportunity to work alongside the business and its partners moving forward."
