Ework Group signs a four-year framework agreement with Sykehusinnkjøp in Norway

Ework Group Norway AS signs a new framework agreement with Sykehusinnkjøp in Norway, the professional purchasing service for Norwegian specialist healthcare. The agreement runs over four years, and covers provision of specialists in several skill areas, such as project management, system development and information security. Ework was one of the few tenders selected in eight of a total of ten subcontracts.

“We are pleased to renew our contract, as it allows us to continue delivering the skills and talents required by the healthcare sector in Norway. Ework Group has since 2017 been a strong partner to Sykehusinnkjøp, and can, together with our many consulting partners, deliver unique, value-adding talent solutions for sustainable and flexible IT services”, says Karin Schreil, CEO of Ework Group.

Sykehusinnkjøp functions as a specialized procurement service for the regional healthcare organizations in Norway. The purpose of the procurement was to ensure that the regions have access to professionals with the right expertise, at the right price, when the need arises. Important criteria was the ability to manage periodical changes in demand over time.

Ework Group was awarded in total eight subcontracts, and the four-year framework agreement covers all of the four regions in Norway. The services include the provision of specialists in a range of skill areas requested by the Sykehusinnkjøp organization, such as project management, system development and information security. This gives consulting partners in Ework’s broad network access to exciting and developing assignments within the healthcare sector.

“That Ework also this time around qualified for delivering IT professionals to Sykehusinnkjøp is a sign that we create value when partnering with the organizations, solving their talent needs. In regions where the shortage of skills is even more evident, Ework has historically been very successful in delivering talents with the right skill sets”, explains Trine Røssel Ødegaard, Head of Market Unit Norway, Ework Group.
