Dr. Ercole offers evening hours and participates in-network with Blue Cross/Blue Shield, Delta Dental and MetLife

Washington, DC - Major General, Dr. Aaron Ercole, Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeon joins Dr. Virginia E. Lee at Capital Oral and Facial Surgery Center in Washington, DC.

Dr. Ercole earned his DDS from the University of Southern California. After completing dental school, he received his Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery certificate at the National Capital Consortium Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery Residency Program at Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington, D.C. During this time, Dr. Ercole received the R.L. Fowkes and L.J. Fogel Memorial Award and several other awards for his achievements.

"It is my express pleasure to be joining the team of professionals at Capital Oral and Facial Surgery Center. Together with Dr. Virginia E. Lee, I can safely say that we have one of the most exceptional Oral Surgery Centers in the DC area," says Dr. Ercole.

In 2007, he was commissioned Captain in the U.S. Army Dental Corps and within 5 short years promoted to Major General. He is currently practicing at Fort Belvoir Community Hospital with access of care to 80,000 military members and their dependents.

To better serve patients, he is offering extended hours on Thursdays until 8 pm. He is fluent in both English and Spanish and accepts all major PPO insurances and participates in-network with Blue Cross/Blue Shield, Delta Dental and MetLife.

Dr. Ercole welcomes any questions and looks forward to treating you and your family with any oral and maxillofacial surgery you may have. Dr. Ercole specializes in wisdom teeth extractions, implants, facial surgery, and is experienced with trauma patients.
