

Bus Monitor Crisis in New York

How to teach self-control to all adults and children.

What an entire community is doing to teach self-control to adults and children.

Jon Oliver has been invited to the White House to demonstrate how he has successfully taught self-control to adults and kids and has also been invited to demonstrate his work with Bill Cosby at Temple University, who also recommended his book. His work has also been recommended by Dr. Alvin Poussaint of Harvard, Dr. James Comer of Yale, Marian Wright Edelman of the Children's Defense fund, among others in the field of education, health and justice. Oliver, author of "Lesson One: The ABCs of Life, The Skills we all Need but Were Never taught," is currently available for lively demonstrations, interviews and in-studio appearances on how to teach self-control and show other solutions on how to stop this crisis plaguing our country.

For more information see www.lessonone.org and contact Jon Oliver, 617-869-3838

Jon Oliver is the director of the non-profit Lesson One and is a national consultant who has spent more than 40 years teaching self-control. He has frequently appeared in the national media including "Parade", "World News Tonight", and NPR.