Purite becomes a preferred supplier to NHS Sterile Services

Purite has been accepted on to the NHS Framework for the supply of Sterile Services equipment and plant. The declaration means that Purite is now a preferred supplier for this department of the NHS and will be invited to quote for all business related to Sterile Services equipment.

“We are delighted with the news that the NHS has selected Purite as a preferred supplier” said Steve Mines, Sales Manager at Purite. “The standards for water purification in Sterile Service Departments are very high and getting more stringent year on year, and we’ve proved that our equipment can provide a regular, reliable, high purity supply to meet those exacting standards.”

Purite is a leading designer and manufacturer of water purification systems, with a strong track record in the healthcare, laboratory, industrial, engineering, pharmaceutical and research sectors. Purite solutions can be supplied as stand-alone units or as fully integrated systems with production capacities up to many thousands of litres per hour.
