Sensys Gatso Australia signs contract for the supply, installation and support of traffic safety systems from the South Australia Police, worth SEK 15 million

Sensys Gatso Group, a global leader in traffic safety solutions, through its subsidiary Sensys Gatso Australia, has signed a contract to the value of AUD 2.4 million, corresponding to approximately SEK 15 million to supply, install and support new systems at existing enforcement sites from the South Australia Police (SAPOL).

SAPOL's objective is to deliver safer communities. Some of the actions to achieve this objective include regulating road use, preventing vehicle collisions, and promoting safe driving practices. Sensys Gatso Australia will support this objective and actions through the delivery of this contract. Sensys Gatso Australia will provide Automated Traffic Enforcement systems at selected intersections in the State of South Australia to be installed within the next 12 months and subsequent ongoing maintenance support for 5 years. The new Sensys Gatso systems will replace other vendor technology at existing site locations. The contract value to be delivered is a total amount of AUD 2.4 million.

Sensys Gatso Australia's Managing Director Enzo Dri comments: "The upgrade of existing sites to the most current Sensys Gatso technology in South Australia expands the Sensys Gatso footprint across the region. It is an example of how we continue to provide our clients with the benefits of Sensys Gatso innovation, commercial flexibility and quality service. We are pleased to increase our presence in the State to help it meet its objectives of delivering safer communities."
