Report on the Audit of the Annual Separate Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying annual separate financial statements of Arctic Paper S.A. (the "Entity"), which comprise:

- the separate statement of financial position as at 31 December 2021;

and, for the period from 1 January to 31 December 2021:

- the separate statement of comprehensive income;
- the separate statement of changes in equity;
- the separate statement of cash flows;

and

- notes comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and additional explanatory notes

(the "separate financial statements").

In our opinion, the accompanying separate financial statements of the Entity:

- give a true and fair view of the unconsolidated financial position of the Entity as at 31 December 2021 and of its unconsolidated financial performance and its unconsolidated cash flows for the financial year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, as adopted by the European Union ("IFRS EU") and the adopted accounting policy;
- comply, in all material respects, with regard to form and content, with applicable laws and the provisions of the Entity's articles of association;
- have been prepared, in all material respects, on the basis of properly maintained accounting records in accordance with chapter 2 of the accounting act dated 29 September 1994 (the "Accounting Act").

Our audit opinion on the separate financial statements is consistent with our report to the Audit Committee dated 14 March 2022.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with:

- International Standards on Auditing as adopted by the National Council of Statutory Auditors as National Standards on Auditing (the “NSA”); and
- the act on statutory auditors, audit firms and public oversight dated 11 May 2017 (the “Act on statutory auditors”); and
- regulation (EU) No 537/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 April 2014 on specific requirements regarding statutory audit of public-interest entities and repealing Commission Decision 2005/909/EC (the “EU Regulation”); and

- other applicable laws.

Our responsibilities under those regulations are further described in the Auditor’s Responsibility for the audit of the separate financial statements section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independence and Ethics

We are independent of the Entity in accordance with International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including International Independence Standards) (“IESBA Code”) as adopted by the resolution of the National Council of Statutory Auditors, together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the separate financial statements in Poland and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the IESBA Code. During our audit the key statutory auditor and the audit firm remained independent of the Entity in accordance with requirements of the Act on statutory auditors and the EU Regulation.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the separate financial statements of the current period. They are the most significant assessed risks of material misstatements, including those due to fraud. Key audit matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the separate financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon we have summarised our response to those risks. We do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the following key audit matters:

Impairment of investments in subsidiaries

The carrying value of investments in subsidiaries presented in the separate financial statements of the Company amounted to PLN 698 mln at 31 December 2020, of which the investment in Arctic Paper Grycksbo amounted to PLN 46 mln.

Refer to disclosures in the separate financial statements: Note 6 Material values based on professional judgements and estimates, Note 10 Significant accounting policies, Note 16.2 Impairment test of investments in subsidiaries.

Key audit matter	Our response
As described in Note 16.2 of the separate financial statements of Arctic Paper S.A. for the year ended 31 December 2021, in previous years the Entity recognized an impairment loss on shares in Arctic Paper Grycksbo AB subsidiary. Due to the continued favourable circumstances in the paper market, the Management of the Entity	Our procedures included, among others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>— understanding of the process related to impairment testing of investment in subsidiaries as well as evaluation of</li> </ul> expects an improvement in the financial performance of Arctic Paper Grycksbo AB subsidiary in future years.

As a result, as at 31 December 2021 the Company performed an impairment test in respect of the investment in Arctic Paper Grycksbo AB and estimated its recoverable amount as the higher of the fair value less cost to sell and value in use (estimated on the basis of the discounted cash flow model).

The assessment of the recoverable amount of the investments in subsidiaries is based on the estimate of future cash flows from the investment and requires Management to apply a number of assumptions including those with respect to estimated production and sales volume, discount rate, projected prices of paper and pulp, estimation of operating expenses, growth rate in the residual period, as well as exchange rates and long-term assumptions regarding macroeconomic trends (including projected inflation). These assumptions require management to make significant subjective judgments and estimates.

Based on the above, we considered the impairment of the investment in the subsidiaries to be a significant risk and therefore a key audit matter.

design and implementation of related internal controls,

- evaluation of compliance of the policy adopted by the Entity with regards to investments in subsidiaries with respective financial reporting standards,
- evaluation of the quality of the Company's budgeting process by comparing the budgets prepared in previous years with their subsequent realization,
- with the support of our valuation specialists:
  - assessment of the macroeconomic assumptions including the discount rate applied in the model by comparing them to publicly available data,
  - assessment of the growth rate in the residual period assumption by comparing it to publicly available long-term inflation forecasts and on the basis of industry knowledge,
  - assessment of whether the discounted cash flows model complies with the requirements of the relevant financial reporting standards,
- assessment of significant assumptions applied in the impairment model, in particular related to sales levels and operating costs by comparison to historical data of the subsidiary and with respect to projected pulp prices to publicly available external forecasts,
- challenging significant assumptions by analysing sensitivity of the model to changes in significant assumptions and considering whether the significant assumptions applied in the model indicate management bias.

Furthermore, we assessed the appropriateness and completeness of the disclosures in the separate financial statements in relation to impairment of investments in subsidiaries.

Responsibility of the Management Board and Supervisory Board of the Entity for the Separate Financial Statements

The Management Board of the Entity is responsible for the preparation, on the basis of properly maintained accounting records, of separate financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, as adopted by the European Union, the adopted accounting policy, the applicable laws and the provisions of the Entity's articles of association and for such internal control as the Management Board of the Entity determines is necessary to enable the preparation of separate financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the separate financial statements, the Management Board of the Entity is responsible for assessing the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Management Board of the Entity either intends to liquidate the Entity or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

According to the Accounting Act, the Management Board and members of the Supervisory Board of the Entity are required to ensure that the separate financial statements are in compliance with the requirements set forth in the Accounting Act. Members of the Supervisory Board of the Entity are responsible for overseeing the Entity's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Separate Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the separate financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with NSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these separate financial statements.

The scope of audit does not include assurance on the future viability of the Entity or on the efficiency or effectiveness with which the Management Board of the Entity has conducted or will conduct the affairs of the Entity.

As part of an audit in accordance with NSAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the separate financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control;

- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Entity's internal control;
- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management Board of the Entity;
- conclude on the appropriateness of the Management Board of the Entity's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Entity's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report on the audit of the separate financial statements to the related disclosures in the separate financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report on the audit of the separate financial statements. However, future events or conditions may cause the Entity to cease to continue as a going concern;

- evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the separate financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the separate financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the Supervisory Board of the Entity regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We provide the Supervisory Board of the Entity with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with the Supervisory Board of the Entity, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the separate financial statements of the current reporting period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report on the audit of the separate financial statements unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.
