

Online portal Live In Bedford teams up with My Job Group to expand services

The new job search system provides a portal service for Bedfordshire in response to the area's population growth and greater need for job sourcing

'Live In Bedford', the main online portal for information about Bedford and surroundings, will now be offering a job search service of all published jobs in Bedfordshire, in collaboration with 'Bedford Local Jobs', one of My Job Group's online portals

The new partnership links 'Live In Bedford' to the fastest growing network of regional jobsites in the UK, with over 300 fully interactive jobsites across the nation. 'Bedford Local Jobs' offers over 400 jobs a month in all industries and at all levels. Both job seekers and recruiters have embraced local jobsites as a major resource for finding employment and quality candidates within their chosen region.

Gavin Mochan, Sales Director at myjobgroup.co.uk has said:

"Information on new job opportunities is essential in all areas of the country, but especially in areas experiencing major growth. We're delighted to be able to join forces with a local site that already offers so much to the area."

Oliver Henry, Business Development Director at Live in Bedford also commented about the new collaboration:

"We've introduced a new section of the website to highlight all the local jobs in Bedfordshire. LiveinBedford.co.uk was originally a service that was more about property and lifestyle. Increasingly we've come to realise the importance of providing a service that responds to Bedford's primary need. It's a way of adapting to what people are looking for."
