

GolfPyramid in cooperation with Austrian Golf Federation

Stockholm, Sweden April 3, 2012 - Austria Golf Federation and GolfPyramid today announced a customer agreement.

The cooperation means that GolfPyramid, a unique website for dedicated golfers, coaches and organizations, will support Austrian coaches and promising golfers aiming toward lower scores. The site provides a cutting edge sport scientific database and structure for communication, analysis, goal setting, training and tournament planning.

“Good communication and cooperation between coaches at club, regional and national levels are key factors when supporting future world-class players. This is one of the reasons we use GolfPyramid“, says Austria National Team head coach Fredrik Jendelid.

“We are proud to expand our market to Austria and the reputable Austrian Golf Federation. GolfPyramid provides a whole-in-one tool for ambitious federations, academies, and individual coaches and players, says John Hellström, CEO at GolfPyramid.

The cooperation initiated in Q1 2012.

Anna-Karin Jonsson
Sales & Marketing
46 (0)709 289048
Email: karin@golfpyramid.com, info@golfpyramid.com

GolfPyramid is probably the worlds most advanced website for dedicated golfers, coaches, academies and organizations. It is used in over ten countries on five continents. www.GolfPyramid.com contains a whole-in-one toolbox for game statistics, technique, fitness, psychology and equipment. With a strong base in sport science, this site enables players and experts to work together toward lower scores in a unique and effective way.

GolfPyramid.com - Toward Lower Scores