Rejlers signs comprehensive agreement with major telecom operator

A new functional agreement will see the biggest contract in the history of the Telecom division. A team of 20 consultants from Rejlers will support the telecom operator's ongoing work relating to fibre deliveries.

"Under the new agreement, we will carry out network planning and order 25 percent of the telecom operator's B2B fibre deliveries, an assignment we are very proud to carry out," said Christina Stöllman Nilsson and Anne-Louise Norman, Group Managers at Rejlers Sweden.

Greater flexibility presents new opportunities

Rejlers' functional solution affords customers a flexible and cost-effective solution and frees up time which can be spent on development projects, for example. The partnership also opens up more opportunities to handle volume changes easily and leads to improved delivery precision across the country.

"The new agreement reflects the success of our previous partnership, which is now set to be deepened further," said Christina Stöllman Nilsson and Anne-Louise Norman.
