Rejlers Finland acquires JETS Consulting Oy

Rejlers has today signed an agreement to acquire JETS Consulting Oy, which specializes in process industry expert services. With the acquisition, the project and engineering services provided by Rejlers Industry division will be significantly strengthened, with the ability to offer competence within EPCM projects (Engineering, Procurement and Construction Management).

The Industry division within Rejlers Finland Oy has grown strongly over the past two years and is currently Rejlers largest division. The division has more than 500 employees and will now be further strengthened with the acquisition of JETS Consulting Oy, which specializes in process and plant design. JETS Consulting Oy was founded in 2011, is based in Espoo and has 16 employees. With the acquisition, Rejlers can provide an increasingly impressive service offering to its customers in the industrial sector.

- Rejlers Industry division is purposefully on its way to becoming one of the largest design and consulting players in the Nordic countries, and the merger with JETS Consulting is a significant step in this direction, says Aki Hakkarainen, VP Engineering, Industry, Rejlers Finland Oy.

- JETS Consulting and Rejlers have been cooperating for several years, and with the well-run customer deliveries, the idea of joining forces came together, says Esa Eklund, CEO, JETS Consulting Oy.

In the industrial sector, customers are increasingly interested in purchasing services as a complete package that assesses the techno-economic feasibility of investment plans. The largest industrial investments are generally carried out as EPCM (Engineering, Procurement and Construction Management) deliveries.

- Both JETS Consulting and Rejlers are respected project suppliers. I look forward to working together on increasingly challenging projects, says Jussi Likitalo, VP Projects, Industry, Rejlers Finland Oy.

- The merger with Rejlers will bring stronger “shoulders” and enable the delivery of ever extensive projects, as well as diverse career opportunities for our personnel, says Taisto Jaatinen, JETS Consulting Oy.

The consolidation will take effect as of 1 October 2021.
