Rejlers wins new agreement with Telenor

Rejlers Norway has been commissioned to assist Telenor in connection with the development of the 5G network in Norway. The agreement runs for three years and includes verification of documentation carried out by contractors for Telenor.

Rejlers has collaborated with both Telenor Norway and Telenor Infra for many years and is now gaining renewed confidence through the new agreement.

"We are very pleased that the good cooperation continues regarding the verification of documentation. Rejlers has solid expertise and extensive experience in developing both mobile and fiber networks," says Hilde Nestvold at Telenor.

The purpose of the verification of documentation, for which Rejlers has now been given responsibility, is to investigate whether the documentation has been carried out correctly, that any deviations are corrected and to ensure that the control results are used for improvement and development by all parties.

"Telenor is an important customer for us and it is exciting to be involved in developing the mobile network of the future. We have been given an important responsibility to maintain Telenor's high-quality standards," says Jon Erik Jenssen, Business Area Manager at Rejlers.

In recent years, Rejlers has built up extensive expertise in documentation control and quality control of infrastructure, as the requirements for documentation have increased. The company helps both private and public actors to ensure that the regulations are followed.
