Rejlers acquires majority stake in Spring Advisor

Rejlers has acquired 51 percent of the Finnish management consulting firm Spring Advisor, further enhancing its capabilities within strategic advisory services.

Spring Advisor is a well-established management consultancy that supports company executives and owners in making and implementing strategic decisions, improving operational and financial performance, and completing M&A processes and transactions. Founded in 2017, the company has 22 employees and reports strong profitability with healthy margins.

“Together, Rejlers and Spring Advisor deliver comprehensive expertise across the entire project process – from pre-studies to implementation and operational development – thereby creating added value for both companies’ clients. Spring Advisor broadens our competence base, while Rejlers offers a partnership in technical advisory. We are very pleased to welcome Spring Advisor’s experts into our network,” says Mikko Vaahersalo, CEO Rejlers Finland.

“I am convinced that Rejlers, as one of the Nordic region’s leading technical consultancies, will strengthen and accelerate our growth. We have built a strong position as advisors to companies, organisations and investors. Together, we can now offer a broad range of services in strategic, operational and financial advisory, while the partnership opens new opportunities for our employees in both national and international assignments,” says Ville Sailas, Managing Partner at Spring Advisor.

The company’s founders and other shareholders will remain as minority owners and continue in their current roles. The company will be financially consolidated into Rejlers as of 1 September.
