Broad support for the merger of Rejlers and Multiconsult

The shareholders of Rejlers AB and Multiconsult ASA have approved the proposed merger of the two groups. This marks an important step towards the formation of Multiconsult Rejlers, a new Nordic group offering advisory, engineering and architectural services, with nearly 8,000 employees.

At extraordinary general meetings of Rejlers and Multiconsult on Monday, 19 October, the shareholders of both companies approved the joint merger plan.

“I am delighted by the shareholders’ strong support for the most significant change in Rejlers’ history. Rejlers and Multiconsult are two successful companies that complement each other well. Together, we are creating a larger and stronger multidisciplinary consultancy, with a broader geographical reach and an even stronger offering for both clients and employees. I very much look forward to building the new group together with all the fantastic colleagues at Multiconsult and Rejlers,” says Viktor Svensson, President and CEO of Rejlers.

“I am very pleased that Multiconsult’s shareholders support the merger. Their support shows that they share our belief in the potential of bringing together two strong companies that are well matched in many ways – in terms of culture, expertise and geographical presence. Our ambition is to become the natural first choice for large and complex projects, and the most attractive workplace for current and future employees,” says Kristin Olsson Augestad, Deputy CEO of Multiconsult Group.

Multiconsult Rejlers will have around 8,000 employees, most of them in Sweden, Norway and Finland, with a presence also in Poland, Denmark, the United Kingdom and the United Arab Emirates. Together, the two companies currently have revenue of approximately SEK 12 billion and adjusted EBITA of approximately SEK 795 million. The group will be headquartered in Stockholm, while several group functions will be based at the main office in Oslo.

Upon completion of the merger, the parent company will be renamed Multiconsult Rejlers. Companies within the group will initially retain their existing brands to a large extent. A new brand strategy for the group will be presented by 2028 at the latest.

The merger is expected to be completed in late 2026 or early 2027, subject to the necessary regulatory approvals being obtained and the other conditions for the merger being fulfilled.
