Irisity delivers video analytics for the Parliament of Romania.

Irisity AB (publ) delivers advanced video analytics protecting the Palace of the Parliament in Bucharest.

The Palace of the Parliament is the second largest administrative building in the world after the Pentagon in Washington D.C., USA and one of the most expensive buildings ever built. At the time, it cost the equivalent of USD 10 billion to build.

This prestigious project, awarded by the Romanian parliament to Irisity and our partners Konica Minolta and Mobotix, includes licenses for several of IRIS advanced algorithms.

Due to the confidential nature of this security asset, we are unable to disclose any further details regarding this project.
