

Investor and board member Anders Trygg increases his stake in Irisity AB (publ) through a off market block sale acquisition

Irisity AB (publ), a leading innovator in intelligent camera surveillance, is pleased to announce that Investor and board member, Anders Trygg, has further solidified his commitment to the company by acquiring an additional 402,799 shares. This significant purchase was realized through the acquisition in an off market block sale. An investment that follows closely on the heels of his acquisition of 1.2 million shares in the recent directed issue.

Trygg's acquisition, including previous holdings, means that his total holding in Irisity now amounts to 1.8 million shares, which not only strengthens his position as a major stakeholder, but also signals his continued belief in the company's future growth and its strategic trajectory.

On his recent acquisition, Anders Trygg remarked, "My expanded stake in Irisity is both an endorsement of its innovative technology and a representation of my unwavering commitment to its future potential. Through this additional acquisition, I aim to further support the team's initiatives and drive towards creating an even more secure global landscape."

CEO of Irisity, Keven Marier, expressed, "Anders' amplified involvement and trust, particularly through this latest block sale acquisition, are invaluable to us. His unwavering support and vision fortify our journey ahead. We are deeply honored by his enduring trust and commitment."

This announcement reinforces Irisity's upward trajectory and the bolstered confidence it enjoys among its pivotal stakeholders. The firm continues its dedication to pioneering innovations in intelligent camera surveillance to ensure a safer world.
