Press Release January 2016

New Year, New Showroom for Stoneham Kitchens

Stoneham Kitchens has transformed its onsite showroom in Sidcup, South East London. The newly designed, extensive and fully functional space features the current trends in kitchen design – fashions, finishes and appliances – and represents the best in British design.

For those seeking kitchen inspiration, Stoneham Kitchens' recently updated showroom is a unique opportunity to experience the latest materials, technologies and design concepts first hand.

“The goal of the showroom is to capture the imagination and inspire by presenting ideas and features that can be made a reality in the home,” notes Duncan Howard, Stoneham Kitchens designer. “With this in mind we brought the most innovative aspects of contemporary kitchen design together in our Sidcup showroom.”

Exhibiting a number of kitchen ranges, including an Aspen and Flow Silk combination and a Strata and Infinity fusion, the Stoneham showroom illustrates the clean lines, subtle accents and diverse materials of contemporary kitchen design. Visitors benefit from a tactile experience through excellently finished displays, featuring Neolith, Corian & Quartz worktops, Ebony Maccasar & Zebrano veneers, American Walnut cabinets and LED & RGB lighting,

Curved and linear cabinets are teamed with elements such as islands and all are fitted with the latest technology: functioning combination and pyrolytic multi-function ovens, induction hobs, integrated and chimney extractors and coffee machines as well as control technology such as soft-close BLUMOTION. But appliances like Siemens microwave and combi ovens, with touch screens and settings that cook different meals and notify you when your meal is ready, really steal the show.

“Stepping into the showroom should be like stepping into your dream kitchen – that is what we try to achieve,” Howard Stoneham, Sales Director, comments. “It’s about curating the finest examples of kitchen ingenuity to give clients something unexpected and help them find a kitchen that meets their needs and exceeds them.”

Ideally located alongside Stoneham’s manufacturing site, the showroom puts on display the skilled workmanship required to create a Stoneham kitchen. The showroom is open from 8am – 5pm Monday to Thursday, from 8am to 4pm on Friday’s, and Saturday mornings from 9am to 12pm. Viewing by appointment is preferred.
