Prescot Producers' Market returns on November 2

An array of local produce and handcrafted goods will once again be on offer at the market on Eccleston Street from 9am until 2pm.

Early bird Christmas shoppers will find plenty of unusual gift inspiration and, as always, there will be the chance to buy from a variety of local independent traders and sample delicious, locally produced food and drink.

The Producers' Market takes place on the first Saturday of every month and is well worth a visit with something for everyone. It is also a great way to support local independent traders.

If you are a local business and want to get involved with the market you can call 0151 443 4499 for more information. Knowsley-based businesses or residents may be eligible for free stall space.
